Customer Reviews

What a great read to clarify your thinking on decision making and making yourself a priority. Charlene Gilman uses her life experiences to make you think about the life you are living. R. Shawn McBride Speaker ([...]), author ([...]) and business strategist ([...])

If you like living in a cotton candy world or an eggshell environment, this is NOT the book for you. Do as Charlene says...close it and gift it to someone. HOWEVER, if you have the awareness and motivation to explore your belief systems, be 100% authentic with yourself (that means warts and all), and truly want to be a productive contributor to your life and society, then this is a GREAT book! Charlene Gilman is walking her talk. Through examples from her life, Charlene illustrates how she had to get real with herself to live her destined life. This meant gaining the awareness and maturity to leave behind belief systems that did not serve her. It also meant taking responsibility for where she was in her life and the desire to improve her situation. This book is an easy read and packed with excellent information...but only if you choose to implement it.

Kudos to Charlene for inserting her personal life to help others. Only you can change your life and Charlene provides the tools, ideas and encouragement for you to find the life you desire. WAKE UP and Take charge!
