Customer Reviews

To the skeptics first: There are authorities of every kind in every area of life. There are those who believe what other people say and don't check things out for themselves. We love to depend on others, especially those hired by the government, by the church & the industry sanctioned experts who are eager to tell us what is good for us, what is true and what is false. In the realm of health, diet, food and medicine it is no different. If one is of this follower mentality we have difficulty differentiating the lies and the sales pitches from fact. If it goes along with our already conditioned (lazy) thinking or comes from an "expert" we buy into it. In the case of Wild Oregano, or more precisely, Oregamax sold by North American Herb and Spice, the proof is in the using of it; the book is merely a simple guide to its use and what ailments it is useful for. Every body's body is a little different but one thing we all have in common is nutritional needs and we will never get them met from the government-sanctioned food pyramid. Our immune system is either functioning well or not functioning well. Our nutritional status is totally dependent on what we eat and what pathogens and toxins we are consuming in our air, water and food. Wild Oregano is remarkable in its healing effect.
on the body and in its ability to rid the body of parasites, pathogens & toxins as well as feed the body minerals and antioxidants; if you have used Oregamax according to Ingrams recommendations you will be probably be nodding your head, yes this is true. If you have not used the product you are probably asking where is the proof, where is the scientific evidence, not realizing that scientific evidence merely means money to the scientists (the pharmaceutical companies) and disease to the consumer.
