

The book was found

Lost Lion Of Empire: The Life Of 'Cape-to-Cairo' Grogan (Life Of Ewart Grogan Dso (1876-1976))

Synopsis

An African Youngusband “ the compelling life of a great adventurer. Ewart Grogan, ‘the baddest and boldest of a bad bold gang’ of settlers in Kenya, was one of the most brilliant and controversial figures of African colonial history. When he proposed to a young heiress, Gertrude Coleman, he needed to prove himself a “somebody”™ to her father in order to win her hand. He did so in inimitable style, announcing that he intended to accomplish the first south-to-north traverse of Africa. In 1900, after two years of illness and extreme hardship, he arrived triumphantly in Cairo. He became an instant celebrity, and, on returning to England, at last married Gertrude. Now with a considerable fortune at his disposal, after a short but successful spell in South Africa he arrived in British East Africa. He quickly became a leader among the settlers, and embarked on a lifetime of grand projects, forced through despite government inertia, enormous natural obstacles and the looming threat of bankruptcy. Time after time he proved the doubters wrong, as he pulled off the seemingly impossible. Despite this frenetic activity, and despite his love for Gertrude, he still managed to find the time to run two separate families and father numerous children by various mothers. The abrasive and glamorous Grogan, with Delamere, was one of the founding fathers of Kenya “ “Lost Lion of Empire”™ is a brilliant and powerful account both of the life of an exceptional man and the birth of a country.

Book Information

Series: Life of Ewart Grogan Dso (1876-1976)

Paperback: 496 pages

Publisher: HarperCollins (February 4, 2002)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0006530737

ISBN-13: 978-0006530732

Product Dimensions: 5.1 x 1.2 x 7.8 inches

Shipping Weight: 12.6 ounces

Average Customer Review: 4.2 out of 5 stars See all reviews (5 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #1,746,382 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #127 in Books > History > Africa > Kenya #927 in Books > Biographies & Memoirs > Historical > Africa #7103 in Books > Travel > Travel Writing

Customer Reviews

Parts of this book will appeal to many people. Taken as a whole, however, I'm not sure how many people will find this to be a satisfying "read." The first part of the book deals with Grogan's trek from South Africa to Cairo, which was undertaken to explore the feasibility of a transcontinental, albeit South-to-North, railroad route. This portion of the book is filled with lots of hunting, rivers full of crocodiles, cannibals, and tropical disease and fever. This is well-written and nicely paced and will appeal to "armchair adventurers" everywhere. The second part of the book, comprising about two-thirds of the total, deals with Grogan's attempts to turn Kenya into a "going concern" and productive outpost of the British Empire. Within this section, there's lots of political infighting between Grogan, his Kenyan detractors and British bureaucrats on the homefront. Grogan is depicted as farseeing and savvy, whilst his enemies- in and out of government- are depicted as jealous or narrowminded. Although I am not a scholar and, before reading this book, knew nothing of Grogan or the development of Kenya, my impression is that the author may be a bit too close to his subject. Grogan is portrayed as being a bit too perfect- even when he is "pulling a fast one" (my terminology) on his competitors, Mr. Paice can't help admiring his charm and gift for blarney. Even Grogan's penchant for womanizing (which included keeping a mistress in a separate household with their illegitimate child) is pretty much laughed off as the activity of a handsome man who was "over-engined." Grogan's wife, Gertrude, is given high marks for putting up with the shenanigans and maintaining a stiff upper lip.

Download to continue reading...

Lost Lion of Empire: The Life of 'Cape-to-Cairo' Grogan (Life of Ewart Grogan Dso (1876-1976))
Africa Solo: My World Record Race from Cairo to Cape Town 1976 U.S. Yearbook: Interesting original book full of facts and figures from 1976 - Unique birthday gift or anniversary present idea!
The Telephone Enterprise: The Evolution of the Bell System's Horizontal Structure, 1876-1909 (The Johns Hopkins / AT& T Series in Telephone History) The Birth and Early Years of the Bell Telephone System, 1876-1880 (Small business enterprise in America) Letters and Notes Written During the Disturbances in the Highlands (Known As the "Devil County") of Viti Levu, Fiji, 1876, Volume 2 Cairo in the War: 1939-45 Ritual, Politics, and the City in Fatimid Cairo (Suny Series in Medieval Middle East History) (Suny Series, Medieval Middle East History) Hardluck Ironclad: The Sinking and Salvage of the Cairo Theatre From Medieval Cairo: The Ibn Daniyal Trilogy (Martin E. Segal Theatre Center Publications) Palace Walk: The Cairo Trilogy, Volume 1 A Border Passage: From Cairo to America--A Woman's Journey Cairo by Night (Vampire: the Masquerade) A Bed Called Home: Life In The Migrant Labour Hostels of Cape Town British & Empire Campaign Medals - Volume 1: 1793 to 1902 (British & Irish/Empire Campaign Medals) The Achaemenid Empire: The First Great Persian Empire Empire, Islam, and Politics of Difference (Ottoman Empire and Its Heritage) Hubley Die-Cast Toys 1936-1976, Hubley Diecast Political Buttons, Book II 1920-1976

(Including Revised Prices for Book I: 1896-1972) Volkswagen Official Service Manual Super Beetle,
Beetle and Karmann Ghia 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979

Dmca